

Shoogo Ueno is a Professor Emeritus, the University of Tokyo. He received the B.S., M.S., and Dr. Eng. degrees in electronic engineering from Kyushu University, Fukuoka, Japan, in 1966, 1968, and 1972, respectively. Dr. Ueno was an Associate Professor with the Department of Electronics, Kyushu University, from 1976 to 1986. He served as a Professor in the Department of Electronics, Kyushu University, from 1986 to 1994. He subsequently served as a Professor in the Department of Biomedical Engineering, Graduate School of Medicine, the University of Tokyo, Tokyo, Japan, from 1994 to 2006. During 1994-2006, he also served as a Professor in the Department of Electronic Engineering, Graduate School of Engineering, the University of Tokyo. In 2006, he retired from the University of Tokyo as a Professor Emeritus. Since 2006, he has been a Professor with the Department of Applied Quantum Physics, Graduate School of Engineering, Kyushu University. From 2009 to 2012, he served Dean of the Faculty of Medical Technology, Teikyo University, Fukuoka.

Dr. Ueno is a Life Fellow (2011) and a Fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, IEEE (2001), a Fellow of the American Institute for Medical and Biological Engineering, AIMBE (2001), and a Fellow of the International Academy for Medical and Biological Engineering, IAMBE (2006). He has been a founding member of the International Advisory Board of International Conferences on Biomagnetism since 1987. He was the President of the Bioelectromagnetics Society, BEMS (2003-2004), the Chairman of the Commission K on Electromagnetics in Biology and Medicine of the International Union of Radio Science, URSI (2000-2003), the President of the Japan Biomagnetism and Bioelectromagnetics Society (1999-2001), the President of Magnetics Society of Japan (2001-2003), and the President of the Japanese Society for Medical and Biological Engineering (2002-2004). He received the Doctor Honoris Causa from Linkoping University, Linkoping, Sweden (1998). He was a 150th Anniversary Jubilee Visiting Professor at Chalmers University of Technology, Gothenburg, Sweden (2006), and a Visiting Professor at Simon Frasier University, Burnaby, Canada (1994) and Swinburne University of Technology, Hawthorn, Australia (2008). He received the IEEE Magnetics Society Distinguished Lecturer during 2010 and d'Arsonval Medal from the Bioelectromagnetics Society (2010). He is a Fellow of the URSI (2017).
